Aims and activities of the organisation	Prague Music Week is an annual event (November) combining a music conference, innovation fair, and a series of live music performances. Our mission is to connect professionals across the music industry, promote innovation, and support the international exchange of knowledge, ideas, and best practices. The core of the event is a three-day professional conference focused on current challenges and trends in the music sector – including sustainability, streaming economics, diversity, the impact of AI and new technologies and others. Alongside the conference, we organise an innovation fair showcasing music-related startups and tech companies, primarily from Central and Eastern Europe. The event is complemented by a showcase and concert program across Prague's venues. Since 2023, we have also developed a digital spin-off project called Echoes of Prague Music Week, a platform offering podcasts and video interviews (in EN or with EN subtitles) with music professionals and innovative companies, sharing know-how and reflections on the industry. This digital content is freely available and aims to reach music professionals across Europe.
